

James Fraser (Biography)

James Fraser is a educator, youth counselor, youth advocator, activist, and visionary who speaks to thousands of students about embracing education, making positive choices, giving back to the community, believing in one self and achieving their personal goals by avoiding gangs, drugs and negative influences.

As a educator, counselor & motivational speaker, James passionate, positive energy out look on life provides a positive message to the youth of today. His powerful and meaningful message connects and encourages youth to take charge of ones life. James's story is inspiring. Coming from Canada's Largest Black Community (North Preston, Nova Scotia). James was able to over come many obstacles in his life. Which prepared him for his long life journey(Advocating for the youth of today).

James serves as a Guidance Counselor/ Student Support Counselor for the York Catholic School Board and Founder and Executive Director of J.Fraser Consulting & CEO of J&TManagement Group Inc. James has over 15 years experience working with youth and specializes in facilitating anger-management classes and workshops for youth, parents and their guardians. Along with dedicated counselors, they plan to be education advocators, providing the support system that is needed for students of today. James also implements these strategies in his involvement with youth that have been incarcerated.

James has worked on a partnership basis with school board administrators, teachers, community leaders, police officer, probation officers and social workers to educate and inform the needs of the youth.

James's love for youth has earned him great respect in communities across Canada. James resides in Brampton, Ontario with his wife and kids, and continues to be a positive influence to the youth of today.

Young Mind, Young Heart, Young Soul

Your time is yesterday, today and tomorrow

James Fraser

www.jfraserconsulting.ca & www.jtmanagement.ca